AWFUL DISASTER

Many Persons Burned and Crushed to Death.

VICTIMS NUMBER OVER SIXTY

Boiler in Brockton, Mass., Shoe Factory Explodes, Wrecking Building—Scores of Employees Give Up Lives in Fire Following Accident—Heroic Deeds.

Brockton, Mass., March 20.—This city is in mourning to night for at least three score of her citizens whose lives were blotted out early to day by the explosion of a boiler in the Grover company's shoe factory. The explosion was immediately followed by a flash of flame, which consumed the factory, a long, four-story structure, as if it were a house of cards and incinerated an unknown number of men and women who were unable to extricate themselves from the mass of tangled wreckage formed by the terrific upheaval in the boiler room.

More than half a hundred employees were maimed, burned or bruised by the time they reached safe ground. Some had jumped from the roof, some from windows and others had been injured in the rush to escape from the doomed factory. From all parts of which came intense, awful heat of an inferno, driving back the band of heroic rescuers who in a few brief moments had performed gallant service. The fire extended from the factory to seven other buildings in the vicinity and destroyed them.

It may never be known just how many persons perished. No one knows exactly how many persons were in the factory. The number has been estimated at four hundred. But Treasurer Emerson said to night he doubted whether there were so many at work. Two hundred and fifty survivors have been accounted for and at midnight the remains of fifty bodies had been recovered from the ruins, search being continued all night. Fragments of human frames which might possibly belong to bodies other than those enumerated have also been found. Few of the remains have been identified. Heads in nearly every case are missing and except in rare instances it was impossible even to distinguish the sex.

There was no trace of the body of David W. Rockwell, engineer, who was not seen after the explosion. It is supposed he perished at his post.

Inspection of the wrecked boiler by the state boiler inspectors showed there was sufficient water in it. The cause of the explosion is a mystery.

When the boiler exploded it passed upward almost perpendicularly, tearing a passage as it went and killing many on its way. After reaching its height it descended half the distance and then, swinging northward, it was like some huge projectile, through a dwelling house fifty feet away and placed another dwelling further along, demolishing the latter structure.

SCENES OF HORROR.

Scenes of horror followed the wrenching apart of the factory building. Men and women had time but to turn in attempt to flee after the first dull roar when the flooring sank beneath them and they were thrown to the ground, crushing and bruised among a mass of debris. Many fell into a veritable fiery furnace. In sections of the factory which remained standing operatives were panic stricken as they sought to escape. Many fled down stairways and reached the street, others ran to windows, fire escapes in many cases having been torn away by the explosion. In desperation many jumped to the ground and were dangerously injured. The crash on the stairways resulted in numerous minor injuries. Scarcely had the rear portion of the structure collapsed when a tongue of flame started up from the boiler pit and reaching out as it ascended communicated with splintered wreckage and immediately afterward with the standing walls.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

Soon the entire factory was in flames. Instant death was the fate of many who went down with the floors that collapsed. A large number of men and women who were working near the supports were alive after the floors and walls fell. From these unfortunate thrilling cries of agony and terror went up. Almost all had been caught between broken timbers, lighter wooden wreckage and heavy pieces of machinery. A few persons succeeded in extricating themselves from the wreckage, but more were roasted to death.

WORK OF RESCUE.

By this time nearly citizens had arrived to assist employees who escaped in the rescue of their fellows. This task became momentarily more difficult and perilous for the heat from the fire was almost unbearable. By the use of long pieces of timber the rescuers were able to raise parts of the wreckage and thereby release some of the imprisoned victims and them by rushing into the smoke carried them to safety.

ACTS OF HEROISM.

Then it was that acts of sacrifice and heroism were seen. One man whose legs were caught under an iron beam cried to rescuers that they could not extricate him and to help the girls behind him. Stretching out his arms, he lifted several girls one by one to the rescuers. Then the fire reached him and he died.

A woman who was entangled in a shoe machine cried out that she was dying and commended the rescuers to attend to others who might live. She begged to be shot. Soon the flames enveloped her.

Among the first to arrive on the scene was Rev. James A. O'Rourke, curate at St. Margaret's Roman Catholic church nearby. At the risk of his life he removed seven persons from the ruins before the fire reached them and was returning for the eighth time when his shoulder was dislocated and he fainted from exhaustion.

Father O'Rourke said: "Pinned beneath heavy pieces of machinery, timbers and twisted coils of pipe were many, oh so many poor men and women suffering terrible agonies.

"In order to reach these imprisoned sufferers we had to crawl through debris and with the aid of a large timber raised the wreckage which held fast several men and women. In this manner and by brute strength we pulled out seven employees.

"By this time the flames were almost upon us and we were about to flee for safety when one poor fellow begged that a last effort be made to save him. Three of us grasped the man by the shoulders and arms and tugged and pulled until suddenly he cried: 'My God, my leg is pulled off.'

"It was terrible, especially so because a moment later, with our clothing scorched, we were ordered away by the chief of the fire department and were reluctantly compelled to leave the poor man to his fate.

"Just before leaving I saw at least fifteen imprisoned operatives, some already suffering untold agonies from flames which were actually cooking their flesh, and others watching with terror-stricken eyes the fate of their companions, knowing that a moment or two would bring to them similar suffering and then death."

Scenes and incidents attending the holocaust were frightful in the extreme and unnumbered many who were trying vainly to get to the victims, and some turned away sick and fainting.

While these scenes of horror were being enacted in the wrecked factory fire leaped across Chalmers street and destroyed a three-story brick block owned by Charles F. Dahlberg and several smaller buildings.

Treasurer Emerson of the Grover company estimated the loss on the factory at $200,000. Aggregate loss on structures is $50,000.

ENGINEER WAS APPREHENSIVE.

In an interview given the Associated Press to night Mrs. Rockwell, wife of the engineer, whose home was wrecked by the flying boiler, said:

"For the past few days my husband had been irritable on account of the condition of the boiler. He had said many times of late that he had to put on the boiler pressure it was unequal to. He had to do this, he said, because work in the factory required it.

"I was in my kitchen about five minutes before the explosion and happened to look over at the factory. At that time Dave was sitting on a chair near the window of the boiler room. That was the last I saw of him. I turned my attention to some household duties and a few minutes later there was a crash. I was thrown to the floor and portions of the roof and ceiling fell down upon me. I did not know until later that it was the boiler which wrecked my home."

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Des Moines, March 20.—Senator Allison is authority for the statement Roosevelt will call congress in extra session Oct. 1 for the purpose of considering the railroad rate question.

NEW OF INDIANA

Will Become Acting Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Washington, March 20.—Harry S. New of Indiana is in the city and it is understood that within a few days announcement will be made of his resignation as acting chairman of the Republican national committee to succeed Postmaster General Cortelyou, who has announced his intention to retire from the chairmanship.

Cortelyou late to night announced he had appointed New vice chairman of the Republican national committee and by reason of this appointment New would become acting chairman on his (Cortelyou's) retirement, which will take place in a very few days.

Cortelyou has appointed Representative Babcock of Wisconsin a member of the Republican national committee from Wisconsin. Babcock will retire from the chairmanship of the Republican congressional campaign committee in order that he may be free to act in his new party capacity.

TRAIN WRECKED.

Des Moines, March 20.—The Golden State limited, a fast Rock Island flyer, was wrecked near Fairfield, Iowa, to day. The accident was caused by spreading rails. Several cars and a sleeper went into the ditch. William M. Asken, brakeman, Eldon, Iowa, was badly bruised about the head. A number of passengers were bruised.

GENERAL HAWLEY'S BODY.

Hartford, Conn., March 20.—Accompanied by his widow and daughters, the body of General Hawley arrived from Washington to night and was met at the station by a large gathering. The body lay in state and was viewed by immense crowds. Senator Platt and Governor Roberts will deliver addresses of eulogy at the memorial service in the capitol to morrow afternoon.

BEEF TRUST

Government Investigation Begun at Chicago.

Chicago, March 20.—The government investigation of the beef trust began to day. Judge J. Otis Humphrey, of Springfield, administered the oath to the ventriloquists, whose names had been kept a profound secret for three weeks, by officials of the United States district attorney's office. The government is represented by Assistant Attorney C. B. Morrison and Assistant Attorney General Oliver H. Pugin. Attorney John S. Miller represents the packers. Much information bearing on specific instances of alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law is said to be in the hands of the federal prosecutors.

ORDERED TO BRING PROOF.

Chicago, March 20.—Allegations were made to day before Judge Kohlsaat in the United States district court that he and his court had been used to besmirch the character of Charles E. Piper, supreme scribe, and William E. Hyde, supreme archon of the Royal league. Attorneys for the two men were ordered to bring proof into court to morrow on the allegation. Judge Kohlsaat declared that if evidence could be submitted that his court had been thus used he would dismiss the bill against Piper and Hyde, which charges they have misappropriated more than $30,000 of Royal league funds.

ASSAULTED IN CHICAGO

Express Messenger Attacked by Former Employee of Company

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 20.—Mal Pult, a Southern Express company messenger on a southern train, to day was assaulted in a car near Lookout station by Will Thomas, a former messenger.

Thomas claims the assault was the result of a personal difficulty. Pruitt says robbery was the motive. Pruitt stated two packages of money and a package of vouchers are missing.

AFTER MURDERERS.

Berlin, European Russia, March 20.—Three squadrons of dragoons have started for Bergha, where armed Jews, it is reported, killed the chief of police and a number of his assistants.

MOTIONS DENIED.

Washington, March 20.—The supreme court to day denied the motion for writs of habeas corpus in the cases of Peter Miller and Thomas Shepperson, two Denver election officials, who were sentenced to terms of imprisonment by the court of Colorado on charges of violating orders of the court in connection with the November election.

STRANGLED TO DEATH.

St. Louis, March 20.—Mrs. Mary B. Page, a fortune teller, aged seventy, was found dead in her home today, having been bound, gagged, and strangled to death. Robbery probably was the motive for the crime.

VENEZUELAN

ACTION TAKEN BY FRENCH GOVERNMENT

Cable Complications Have Reached a Crisis—Position of United States—A Denial From Paris.

Washington, March 20.—The French cable complications have reached a crisis. Minister Bowen has informed the state department the French minister at Caracas has notified the Venezuelan government there must be no further proceedings on its part toward cancellation of the company's franchise or interference with its property. Bowen reports two French warships have been ordered post haste to Venezuela, to act in accordance with instructions of the French minister.

RUMOR DENIED AT PARIS.

Paris, March 20.—Inquiry at the ministry of marine to night failed to elicit verification of the report cabled here from the United States that French warships had been ordered to Venezuela. On the contrary, no movement of that character has yet been ordered. The foreign office said specifically that the stage for sending warships has not yet been reached.

POSITION OF UNITED STATES.

Washington, March 20.—In the case of the last demonstration against Venezuelan American Minister Bowen was able to prevent bombardment and secure reference of the dispute to the Hague tribunal, but, as it was, Venezuelan commerce suffered somewhat from a few weeks' blockade. Now, however, Bowen's relations with President Castro are very different, and even if he had the disposition to do so, he lacks power to influence Castro to peacefully settle this trouble.

The state department also is not disposed to repeat history of the first settlement with Venezuela, as results have been far from satisfactory, neither the allied powers nor Venezuela being pleased at the outcome. Obligations incurred under ward of The Hague tribunal never have been met. It is therefore the present intention of the government here not to interfere in any dispute of foreign nations with Venezuela provided the Monroe doctrine is not infringed. This determination does not stop action on our part in the interests of American commerce and properties in Venezuela.

REPORT IS UNFOUNDED.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 20.—It is authoritatively asserted here on information direct from eastern headquarters that there is not the slightest foundation for reports recently published in several quarters that President Ripley of the Santa Fe is about to retire, to be succeeded by President Felton of the Chicago & Alton.

WARNER WILL NAME SUCCESSOR.

Kansas City, March 20.—President Roosevelt having requested Senator Warner to nominate his successor as United States district attorney for western Missouri, Warner will recommend selection of his assistant, A. S. Van Valkenburg.

TURBULENT VOYAGE

Rough Trip for the Ocean Liner Cedric.

New York, March 20.—More than three and half days behind her best record time for voyage, the big White Star liner steamer Cedric came into port to day, after the most turbulent voyage of her career. The force of gales was terrific at times and assumed hurricane proportions, with tremendous seas. In the almost violent period storm March 12, Mrs. Whitney, a steerage passenger, gave birth to a child.

Among the passengers on the Cedric was Jabez White, English pugilist, matched to fight Jimmy Britt.

AFTER BODIES.

Fire Creek, W. Va., March 20.—A second rescuing party entered the Rush Run and Red Ash mines to day to recover the bodies of twenty-four men believed to have been killed by the explosions of Saturday and Sunday.

INTERSTATE SHOOT.

Omaha, Neb., March 20.—A three days' interstate shoot began here to day. The first day's events carried 200 targets. W. R. Crosby, of O'Fallon, Ill., was the high gun with 392.

TRAINMEN INJURED.

Des Moines, March 20.—The Rocky Mountain limited on the Rock Island was derailed near Homestead, Iowa, county, this morning. Two trainmen were probably fatally injured. Engineer Hotchkiss was found under his engine, terribly scalped. He will die. A soft roadbed was responsible for the accident.

A BLIZZARD.

Norfolk, Neb., March 20.—A severe blizzard struck the Roschold reservation to day. Some parts of the reservation report eight inches of snow.

FLOOD DAMAGE

Allegheny River Swollen by Melting Snow Creates Havoc at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, March 20.—Just before midnight to night one of the fiercest flood rampages the Allegheny river has been on for years ended. After remaining on the ground four months practically the entire winter's snowfall at upriver points, in some places amounting to eight feet, was washed out by over an inch of rain which fell during Saturday and Sunday. The torrent caused by this movement reached here to day and left much damage in its wake. More than a score of industrial plants are crippled and at least ten thousand men temporarily forced into idleness; costly warehouses along railroads bordering the stream and hundreds of houses and stores are flooded.

WAR NEWS

THE REAR GUARD.

Gunshi Pass, March 20.—(Morning).—The Russian rear guard is retreating slowly and engaging in occasional skirmishes. It has now reached a position twenty-seven miles north of Tie pass. The Japanese are slowly advancing without pressing the Russians. In course of retreat Russians are destroying bridges, railway, roads and highways and carrying off stores and demolishing buildings and everything not portable. Reports of a wide turning movement by Japanese are no longer being received.

The troops parted in sadness with Kurapatkin, whose labors in shaping the army are recognized and who was very attentive to the wants of soldiers in the matter of food, clothing and shelter. Regardless of the fact he had been commander-in-chief, Kurapatkin offered to remain here as a subordinate of Linevitch and as commander of a corps.

Linevitch, who also enjoys respect and confidence of troops as a fighter, is determined to infiltrate reform by weeding out the overloaded staff and other administrative departments and is taking other steps which it is believed will result in economy as well as increasing efficiency of the army.

CANNONADING.

St. Petersburg, March 21, 2:17 a. m.—The dispatch received yesterday announcing cannonading had been heard south of Tie pass is apparently an error either as to direction or location.

M. Tulusakoff, Associated Press correspondent who had been accompanying Rennenkampf's corps of the eastern army and whose dispatches ceased with beginning of the retreat, has arrived at Gunshi pass, having been wounded in the early stage of the retreat and incapacitated from continuing his work.

LOSSES AT MUKDEN.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—Complete details of the losses at the battle of Mukden are not yet available at the war office, but reports thus far received indicate 120,000 men killed, wounded or made prisoners and about eighty field guns captured. Almost every siege gun, it is affirmed, was removed.

WAR REPORTS.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—A dispatch from Linevitch the 19th says: "The commander of the second army reports he has had no further fighting. No reports received from the first or third armies. I have inspected troops which have arrived from Russia. They are in excellent spirits and healthy."

BORN ON TRAIN.

Mexico, Mo., March 20.—A child was born on-board the sleeping car, Brazoria, which, attached to the Alton "Hummer," was speeding from Kansas City to Chicago. The mother, Mrs. W. H. Shinnabar, of San Francisco, was on the way to Toledo, Ohio, to visit her mother, Mrs. H. M. Koles. At Chicago the mother and child were taken to a hospital.

JUSTIFIABLE MURDER.

Chicago, March 20.—The case of Mrs. Josie Hopkins, on trial for the murder of her husband, was taken out of the hands of the jury to day by Judge Kersten, by whom the charge against her was summarily dismissed. Judge Kersten held Mrs. Hopkins was justified.

KOHLSAAT EXONERATED.

Washington, March 20.—Correspondence in relation to the investigation made by the department of justice into charges made against Christian C. Kohlsaat, who was recently confirmed as judge of the circuit court in Illinois, was made public at the white house to day. The documents exonerated Kohlsaat on all charges.

SAYS BOILER WAS CRACKED.

Boston, March 20.—"A crack in a lap seam of the boiler was responsible for the accident," said an expert engineer of the Hartford Steam Inspection and Insurance company to night.

"It was practically impossible to detect the crack," said he, "as it was on the inside part of the lap, running beside the rivets. The continued heating of the boiler tends to make the flat part round like the rest of the boiler, causing a strain on the inside of the seam. This frequently causes a crack which is not possible to detect until it develops. It was one of those accidents for which no one is to blame."

INDIAN CASES

ARE DECIDED

INVOLVE LARGE AMOUNT OF MONEY

$5,500,000 From United States by Treaty Made When They Were Removed to Indian Territory.

Washington, March 20.—The cases of the Cherokee nation of Indians and of individual Cherokees against the United States were decided by the court of claims to day. They involve a large amount of money and are of an unusual and extraordinary character. The United States bought the Cherokee outlet, agreeing to pay for it $5,500,000, being about $1 per acre, and also agreeing to reopen a long standing controversy between themselves and the Cherokees. In 1835 a treaty was made under which the Cherokees were to move or be removed from Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee to the Indian Territory. The Cherokees contended before they were removed that under provisions of the treaty they were not to pay the cost of removal. The government, however, held to the contrary. When the Cherokee outlet was sold the Indians stipulated that all these accounts should be reopened and the matter equitably settled and for that purpose the United States should make out an account and transmit it to the Cherokee nation. If the Cherokees adopted it congress should immediately appropriate for whatever balance might be found due. The account was adopted, but congress did not appropriate the money, and for some time did nothing. In the present suit the court of claims decides the account transmitted by the secretary of interior, followed by action of congress, renders the United States liable for a balance of $1,111,384 with interest from June 12, 1838, which amounts approximately to $4,500,000.

SHOT BY A BOY

Youthful Anarchist Seriously Wounds an Official.

Viborg, European Russia, March 20.—Governor Minorodoff was shot and seriously wounded to day by a boy named Matti Hjalmar. The assassin, who is about 15 years old, obtained entrance to the governor's office and fired three times at him, one bullet inflicting a serious wound and the others slightly wounding the governor's legs. The governor's clerks and secretary were unable to stop the would-be assassin, who reached the street, where he was arrested without a struggle. He confessed he is an anarchist. The governor's condition is critical.

WANT SHARE OF ESTATE.

Newark, N. J., March 20.—Luke Skelly, a harnessmaker, and his sister, Anne Skelly, of this city, have joined forces with their cousins, Luke and Winifred Skelly and Mrs. James Roach, of Rochester, N. Y., to claim a share of an estate valued at $1,000,000 left by the late John H. Skelly, of St. Onge, S. D. It is believed by the claimants Skelly was their uncle, who went west several years ago and made a fortune in mining.

DEATHS.

Des Moines, March 20.—Col. J. S. Tam, ex-nominee for governor on the Democratic ticket, died to day, aged sixty.

Muscatine, Iowa, March 20.—Frank Bacon, one time nominee for president on the Prohibition ticket, is dead at Los Angeles. He was former a resident of Muscatine.

WILL PROHIBIT BETTING.

Nashville, Tenn., March 20.—The Rice-Ligon bill to prohibit gambling on race horses passed the house this afternoon, 55 to 28, just as it came from the senate. The bill now only lacks the governor's signature to become a law. Governor Preager will be elected senator to morrow and he will be succeeded by John C. Cox, who probably will sign the bill, as he voted for it in the senate.

FIREMAN KILLED.

Bloomington, March 20.—Fireman Gill, of Pekin, was killed by a collision between a freight train and switch engine on the Big Four near Pekin.

MANY IMMIGRANTS

Arrivals the Next Seven Days at New York will Number 32,863.

New York, March 20.—Enough immigrants to people a city as large as Chattanooga, Tenn., or Canton, Ohio, are due to arrive in this port on steamers from European ports this week. For the seven days the number will be 32,863, which is a fair-sized number ordinarily for a month and far exceeds that of any week in March since the federal government has supervised the landing here. More than seven thousand immigrants arrived on steamers reaching here to day.

MANY MEN ARE IDLE.

New York, March 20.—Over three thousand men have been thrown out of employment as a result of shutting down of the Havemeyer sugar refinery in Brooklyn to day. No official explanation is given, but it is said decreased consumption of sugar growing out of advance in price was the cause.

ROBBED OF TEN THOUSAND.

Berkeley, Cal., March 20.—E. J. Daly, an Oakland liveryman, who was acting as messenger for the Central bank of Oakland, was held up and robbed of $10,000 while on his way to the Standard Oil refinery at Point Richmond to day.

HAS NO FRANCHISE

Chicago Council Revokes All Privileges of City Railway Company.

Chicago, March 20.—The City Railway corporation, controlling ninety miles of street railway lines in the south and southwest portions of Chicago, is now without a franchise of any description whatever. For some time the company has been operating under extension of their former franchise, but this extended privilege was taken away to night by the city council, which passed an ordinance declaring the company had no rights whatever in the streets in which the cars are operated.

To night's action by the council was taken to offset attempt of the company to take the matter into the federal courts and to have a receiver appointed, thus preventing the city from interfering with the company pending settlement by the federal court.

Late to night Corporation Counsel Tolman hurried to Judge Mack's court, where the jurist was waiting, and filed a bill asking an injunction restraining the City Railway company from maintaining and operating its railroad upon streets where the city contends the franchise has expired and asked that rights and title of the city in streets be established and claim of the corporation to streets be annulled.

TRAINS COLLIDED.

Beatrice, Neb., March 20.—A Burlington passenger train and extra Rock Island freight, collided at the crossing of the two roads near here this evening. Both engines were demolished and Engineer Hickey and Fireman Peckman of the freight severely injured. The passengers escaped with a bad shaking up.

TEN-ROUND BOUT.

Indianapolis, March 20.—Willie Fitzgerald, of Brooklyn, was awarded the decision over Gus Gardner, of Saginaw, at the end of a ten-round bout to night.

YORK RITE GIVEN FAIRBANKS.

Indianapolis, March 20.—Vice President Fairbanks to night received the Masonic degree of the York rite to and including Royal Arch Mason.

MATT STARR POST G. A. R. AROUSED

Indignant Over Proposed Action of Illinois Legislature in Voting to Return Confederate Flag—Department Commander Wood to be Here in April

A bill was recently presented to the Illinois legislature authorizing the return by the state of Illinois of the flag of Second Tennessee Confederate regiment. This regiment was under the command of the famous rebel General Forrest, and it was a detachment of his men that killed Col. Matt Starr, of revered memory, and for whom the local G. A. R. post of this city was named. When this fact became known to the members of the local post, a resolution was introduced at their last regular meeting protesting against the return of the above flag.

The matter was taken up with Speaker Shurtleff of the Illinois house of representatives, and Representative Heintz of this district has also been appealed to. It appears that the bill was introduced by a member of the G. A. R. and practically went through without objection or comment. Speaker Shurtleff has not signed the bill and no action has been taken by the state senate on the matter. The local G. A. R. are anxious that the flag shall remain in the custody of the state and a vigorous effort will be made to have the bill defeated.

The above facts were learned in conversation with J. T. Anderson, adjutant of the local G. A. R. post, who showed the following letter, written by a gentleman prominent in G. A. R. circles, who is now in New Orleans, La., which is expressive of a sentiment that obtains in some sections of the southern states.

The letter reads as follows: "New Orleans, March 17.—My Dear Comrade: Referring to letter of Commander C. A. Catlin, of the 13th inst., permit me to say that I will make arrangements to be in Jacksonville April 14th.

"You will be pleased to learn that the Ladies' Confederate association here, day before yesterday, adopted a resolution to have the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic' expunged from the school books and that yesterday the school board resolved to expurgate the 'Star Spangled Banner.' Now, if they will rule out the New Testament, they will be comparatively safe."

The following is a copy of the resolutions as passed by the Matt Starr Post, G. A. R.:

"Whereas, On March 8, 1906, the lower house of the forty-fourth general assembly of the state of Illinois, did by an almost unanimous vote order the return of the confederate battle flag of the Second Tennessee cavalry, captured by Illinois troops while defending Memphis in August, 1864; during the fierce engagement between our forces and those led by the rebel general N. B. Forrest, our gallant Matt Starr, who was the colonel of the Sixth Illinois cavalry, and for whom this post was named, and who was an honored resident of Jacksonville up to the hour of his untimely death, received a wound which resulted in his death on the 10th day of October, 1864.

"Whereas, The surrender of one rebel flag means that all will be surrendered later; therefore be it

SCOTT'S EMULSION

We don't put Scott's Emulsion in the class of advertised cures—all; it doesn't belong there. We hardly like to use the word "cure" at all, but we are bound to say that it can be used for a great many troubles with great satisfaction. Its special function is to repair the waste of the body when the ordinary food does not nourish, and this means that it is useful in many cases which are indicated by wasting.

We'll send you a sample free.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

"Resolved, That Matt Starr post No. 378, G. A. R., does now and hereafter place itself on record as being unalterably opposed to the action of the lower house of the forty-fourth general assembly in surrendering any of the so-called flags or banners of the late confederacy; for they are nothing but rags and represent nothing now but a bloody past, that should as far as possible be obliterated from the pages of American history; that whatever they may have ever stood for meant human oppression, ignorance and treason that was shot to death on a thousand fields more than forty years ago by members of the Grand Army of the Republic; that the return of this flag would mean the installation of a spirit of treasonable thoughts into the minds of the generation of the new south, and would be used as an emblem to perpetuate sectionalism between the states.

"Resolved, That there is but one flag, one constitution and one country, and that the bonds which hold the union together were welded in the fire of battle, the suffering and death of 400,000 loyal sons of the north, and the remnant of the mighty host who marched with Sherman to the sea and those who stood with Grant at Appomattox, where the emblems of the lost cause were forever buried.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the senator and each of the three representatives from the Forty-fifth senatorial district, to the president of the senate and the speaker of the house. And be it further

"Resolved, That we call upon other posts of this department to take the same action as embodied in the spirit of these resolutions."

TWAIN MADE ONE ON C. P. TRAIN

ROMANTIC WEDDING OF MASON COUNTY COUPLE

Blushing Bride in Blue Silk Left to Hymeneal Altar in Passenger Coach—Rev. George Hart Was the Minister—Clever Plan Carried to Completion by Train Crew.

The winged god, Cupid, was responsible for a decidedly sensational and romantic marriage which took place on the C. P. & St. L. passenger train No. 38 Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The principals were Charles Meegan, of Bath, and Eva Pearl Lindsay, of Bath. Rev. George Hart, the venerable Union Baptist minister of Franklin, was the officiating clergyman. The attendants were George Holliday, conductor of the train, and James F. Green, brakeman. The marriage took place in the north end of coach No. 46, the couple standing on the west side of the coach in one of the seats, and the minister standing in the seat in front of them. The service was solemn and impressively said, and at its conclusion the minister offered a prayer.

In 1888 the society received a bronze medal from the Columbian exposition, placing it in the third place among the child saving institutions of the country. At the Louisiana exposition, in competition with all the great child saving societies of New York and other parts of America, while a large number of awards of lower grade were granted, this society received the grand prize, the highest award made to any. This society has won its proud place as the leading one of America by its thorough, conscientious work.

matrimonial bark. It glided beautifully and serenely into the sea of wedded bliss and slipped lightly over the tossing waves, leaving behind only gentle ripples as reminders to those on shore that again there were "two souls with a bit a single thought and two hearts that bent as one."

OPENED HEADQUARTERS. District Superintendent E. A. Whitman, of the Children's Home and Aid society, has reopened headquarters at 216 W. College avenue, where he will be glad to see any who may wish to see him in regard to any phase of his work. He arrived last Wednesday, and has been exceedingly busy looking after work that demanded his attention. There is always much to do here, and this society is in great demand, indications point to their taking several children in the near future, and he has already done much old work.

This society has placed out 528 new wards during the past year, besides looking after the more than two thousand already on their hands. In addition to this it has found situations for 104 mothers with children. The total number received from the beginning has been 5,300, of these 2,200 still remain under the care of the society as wards. Beside this the society has a large aid department to assist children who do not become permanent wards. During 1904 applications were received in behalf of 1767 children. Of these 611 were added to get what they needed from other agencies, forty-six finally became wards and 1,114 were cared for by the aid department.

In 1888 the society received a bronze medal from the Columbian exposition, placing it in the third place among the child saving institutions of the country. ARE PATENT MEDICINES FRAUDS

Many Druggists Asked the Above Question—Lee P. Alcott Says "No."

When asked the above question, Mr. Lee P. Alcott contended that nothing that gave satisfactory results could be fraudulent. "Do you believe," said Mr. Alcott, "that we could afford to sell you something you don't want or that will not give you satisfaction? Our business depends upon pleased customers—in fact, any business does. Therefore, we would take an enormous risk did we not fulfill every promise made our customers. We are very careful of what we guarantee, and when we do guarantee an article we must know it pretty well—that it contains and how it is made. I have in mind the Rexall line of remedies, particularly Rexall Mucun-Tone, of which we are selling large quantities at this time of the year. Mucun-Tone is one article that we can recommend over our counter, and know that 98 per cent of its purchasers are going to be benefited and will return to our store pleased customers. Mucun-Tone is a positive cure for internal scrofula or what is commonly called Catarrh. It is without a doubt the peer of all tonics for any one who is suffering from a run-down condition, can't work, feel constantly tired or suffering from the more plainly described symptoms of Catarrh—such as, stopping of the nose, cold in the head or bad cough.

"It must be remembered that Catarrh is not confined to the nose and throat. It usually starts there but it leads more often to serious trouble, particularly the wasting of tissues, as in the case of little Miss Dillon, of Albany. Here is a letter from her father:

"My little girl had catarrh so badly that the disease had begun to eat into the cartilage of the nose. Snuffs and instruments failed to do more than give temporary relief. I saw the advertisements of Mucun-Tone, but I could not believe that anything taken in the stomach could cure the sore membranes of the nose. However, I took advantage of your free trial offer and my girl began taking your remedy according to directions. I want to say right here that Mucun-Tone is certainly the greatest medical discovery of the times, and to thank you for the liberal offer that first induced me to give it a trial. Mucun-Tone has cured my daughter's catarrh completely. The discharge has stopped altogether and her breath is as sweet as can be. Again thanking you, Matt Dillon, 24 N. Swan St., Albany, N.Y."

"Lee P. Alcott is selling a large trial bottle of Mucun-Tone for fifty cents on the famous Rexall guarantee of 'your money back if you are not satisfied. He promises that one bottle will put flesh on your bones and bring new vitality to your system.

Last Sunday Rev. John Kirk had quarterly meeting at his charge in Pittsfield. A good number 'communed and a liberal collection was taken. Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick preached the sermon, which was a powerful effort. Mr. Kirk feels much encouraged by the condition of affairs in his field of work. He was accompanied Sunday by Levi Postley, of this city.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which, despite the most beneficial environment of soil, of sunshine and of atmosphere, seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart. You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vasoline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out. Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

NAGGING PAINS

Newport News, Va., July 22, 1903.
Last summer while recovering from illness of fever, I had a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism in the knees, from which I was unable to leave my room for several months. I was treated by two doctors and also tried different kinds of liniments and medicines which seemed to relieve me from pain for awhile, but at the same time I was not any nearer getting well. One day while reading a paper I saw an advertisement of S. S. S. for Rheumatism. I decided to give it a trial, which I did at once. After I had taken three bottles I felt a great deal better, and I still continued to take it regularly until I was entirely cured. I now feel better than for years, and I cheerfully recommend S. S. S. to any one suffering from Rheumatism. 613 3rd St. CHAS. E. GILBERTSON.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or some other acid poison in the blood, which when deposited in the muscles and joints, produce the sharp, cutting pains and the stiffness and soreness peculiar to this disease. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation, all irritating substances are neutralized and filtered out of the system, the blood is made pure and the general health is built up under the purifying and tonic effects of the vegetable remedy.

Write for our special book on Rheumatism which is sent free. Our physicians will advise without charge all who will write us about this case.

THE GRAND JURY.
Commenting on Mayor Davis' letter to the Courier says:
"As to the fact that he had no chance to clear himself before 'this' grand jury, Mayor Davis seems to infer that he should have been allowed to appear before it with his defense. According to law a grand jury hears only one side of a case. If both sides were to be heard there would be no need of a trial. The matter could be settled at once. A grand jury, 'this' one as well as any other, must hear testimony against any individual, and if such testimony is at all plausible in tending to show in the minds of the jurors that a man may have been guilty of a crime, then it is the duty of the jury to return a true bill against that man and he must stand trial upon the charges. The law presumes a man to be innocent until he is proved to be guilty, even though he may have been indicted by a grand jury. The same points hold good for Mayor Davis as well as for any other man."

THE CANDIDATES.
The Republican ward primaries were largely attended Monday night and no one can truthfully say that the people were in any way apathetic regarding their duty in that particular. Good order was the invariable rule and the enthusiasm was abounding. To night will tell the result regarding the city ticket.

In the First ward the voters felt so well satisfied with the conduct of James E. Babb that they decided to place him in nomination again by a good vote. Mr. Babb is one of the younger men and has faithfully attended to the duties of his office and has earned a second term. Mr. Birkenhead is a new man in the arena, but he will make a good member of the board of education if elected. He is a clean man, intelligent and upright and a man who can be trusted with the important office of member of the board of education.

In the second ward the voters went on the principle that one good term deserves another, and renominated all their officials. Mr. Tieknor is a man of the people and has been untiring in the performance of his duties as alderman, while his conduct has been above reproach. Mr. Goveia is a man so well known and acceptable that the people feel that they want him right along, and act accordingly, for they know who will serve them well. Mr. Rutledge had no opposition, which was a fitting compliment to the gentleman who has done so well on the board of education.

In the Third ward merit was rewarded by renomination of Messrs. Cobb and Hildreth for aldermen. Mr. Cobb is a man of affairs, experienced in what pertains to the welfare of the municipality, versed in the details of the work of the office and upright. Beyond question he will make a better member than ever. Mr. Hildreth has done admirably and his conduct has been recognized in a gratifying manner. He will serve his constituents all right.

In the Fourth ward the people will be well looked after by Messrs. Hairgrove and Richards. Mr. Hairgrove has spent most of his life here and is a man well acquainted with the wants and needs of the people and he will prove a valuable member of the council. Mr. Richards especially represents the younger element of the party and is an admirable selection. Both gentlemen are upright and industrious and will see to it that their constituents are well served.

CONFIRMATION CLASS.
Confirmation services were held at the Salem Lutheran church on East College street Sunday evening. A class of ten adults, who had previously been instructed in the doctrines and duties of the church by the pastor, went up to the altar railing and professed to the Christian faith and declared their intention of becoming members of the Salem Lutheran church. They gave their hands to the pastor, Rev. H. Hallerberg, as a pledge for the promises they had made. They were then admitted to the Lord's Supper for the first time. Rev. Mr. Hallerberg preached an excellent sermon on "Church Membership," basing his remarks on Acts 14:47. After the sermon Mrs. Robert Stice rendered an excellent organ selection from the 23rd Psalm, entitled "King of Love."
The altar and pulpit were most beautifully decorated in smilax, white carnations, ferns and palms. The impressive services were witnessed by a large audience, the auditorium being filled to its greatest capacity and a large number standing.
A class of five children will be confirmed on Palm Sunday.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES
Improvement in Progress on Burlington - Special Went South Monday Afternoon - Items Picked Up at the Shops.

The Burlington is laying twelve miles of new rails between Jacksonville and Centralia under the supervision of B. F. Bond, chief engineer of the J. & St. L. branch of the road. The new steel rails will weigh between seventy-five and seventy-six pounds and will be far superior to the old rails. Mr. Bond has already put three new gangs to work on the improvements, of thirty men each. One of the gangs are now working between Plagah and Waverly, where six miles of new rails are being laid. Another gang is laying the other six miles of the track between Kaysport and Centralia, while the other thirty men are employed in rehabilitating the roadbed between McVey and Barnett. But the improvements will not stop with the new rails, as a large force of men and several gravel trains will be put to work about the first of April on the roadbed between this city and Centralia. The company have decided to ballast the road and will use gravel. This last is a great improvement, as it will make the road more even and improve it in many other ways. Mr. Bond increased the section forces between Centralia and this city about the middle of this month to forty-five extra men. The new employees were put on to assist in the great improvements which are being made and will also assist in the ballasting of the road.

A special train went south on the Burlington yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock pulled by engine No. 90 and in charge of Conductor McCarty and Engineer Tabler. The coach was occupied by the following officials: H. D. Judson, general superintendent; Geo. H. Bremmer, engineer maintenance of ways, and L. W. Berry, division superintendent. The gentlemen were enroute to Centralia, where they were to meet Mr. Willard, second vice president of the road, for consultation. They are expected to return some time to day.

Cashier Spahnower, of the Burlington freight house, was on duty as day agent at the passenger station Monday. The System Lives on Good Rich Blood

People Who Lack the Proper Quantity and Quality of Blood Fall Victims to Every Disease That's Prevalent.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

The blood is the medium through which every tissue, every organ is supplied with the material it feeds upon and rebuilds itself with. Take away that nourishment by letting the blood run down in quantity and quality and you take away the power of an organ or tissue to resupply waste or rebuild itself. In other words, the system starves; color, appetite, steadiness, energy, vigor, vitality—all are lost and a condition of mental and physical prostration sets in. This condition Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cure by their power to manufacture good, rich, nutritious, oxygen-carrying blood, a blood that carries to every organ the very material it lives and thrives upon.

Mr. George Horkins of Westinghouse Avenue, Wilmerding, Pa., Says:

"I began to use Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills in Pittsburg. I was at the time badly run down, weak—nervous—could not eat—could all the time, as my blood was thin, and did not sleep well. The medicine put me in splendid shape rapidly and easily, giving me steady nerves—a fine appetite—restful sleep—a general feeling of energy and vigor and good rich blood that showed in the way my color came back. The medicine is certainly a grand one and I am only too glad to say so." 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. Davis, whose administration of municipal affairs for four years past has been honorable and progressive and placed our city in line with other cities of the state in the matter of good order and enterprising business advancement.

We, his friends and neighbors, who have known him intimately all his life, have reason to believe in him in preference to all persons who have attacked him because they could not compel him to carry out their personal, political or financial schemes. We heartily endorse Mayor Davis for re-election and in view of his successful administration of all branches of the city government hereby instruct the delegates from the Second ward to vote for his re-nomination in the coming city convention.

E. E. Ticknor and Joseph Goveia were nominated for aldermen, the vote being as follows: E. E. Ticknor, 174; Joseph Goveia, 150, and John M. Vasconcellos, 152. C. G. Rutledge was unanimously renominated for member of the board of education. R. L. Gonsalves and J. M. Vasconcellos were elected members of the central committee.

THE THIRD WARD.

The Republicans of the Third ward to the number of about 250, held their primary in Armory hall Monday evening. T. H. Rapp, committeeman of the first district, called the meeting to order. George Sybrant was elected permanent chairman and Edward C. Beck was chosen secretary.

Previous to taking up the business of the meeting the chairman appointed George Brady, T. H. Rapp and Dr. L. H. Clampt to take up a collection for the purpose of paying for the use of the hall.

Nominations for aldermen were declared to be in order, and A. J. McCarty nominated W. H. Cobb, Capt. G. W. Cooper nominated George Hooking and Matthew Minter nominated M. L. Hildreth. Each candidate appointed a teller as follows: Capt. G. W. Swales, William Meyers and Charles Glossop. On motion it was ordered that the two candidates receiving the greatest number of votes on the first ballot be declared the nominees of the convention.

E. M. Vasconcellos was on motion elected assistant secretary.

While the ballots were being counted, on motion of Dr. Clampt it was ordered by unanimous vote that the delegates to the city convention be instructed to cast the vote of the delegation for J. R. Davis for mayor; M. C. E. McDougall for city clerk; and Andrew Russell for city treasurer. Central committeemen were then chosen. G. A. Moore was the unanimous choice for the first district, and for the second H. A. Withee, L. A. Craig and T. H. Buckthorpe were nominated. The ballot was as follows: Withee, 51; Buckthorpe, 31; Craig, 27. Mr. Moore and Mr. Withee responded to the demands of the meeting with a few appropriate remarks.

The vote for aldermen was then announced as follows: Cobb, 153; Hildreth, 188; Hooking, 118. The three candidates for the nomination were called for and responded with a few words.

Delegates to the city convention were nominated and elected as follows: Hawes Yates, chairman; John Minter, Thomas C. Rogerson, J. A. Obermeyer, David Estaque, L. H. Clampt, Henry Basket, W. D. Mathers, George E. Sybrant, L. A. Craig, William A. Blue, Fred Schoppa, Seaton L. Birze, Charles J. Rataichak, James P. Hopper, James A. Dickson, Edward C. Beck and Joseph P. Shreve.

The alternates chosen were: George Brown, A. J. McCarty, Thomas H. Rapp, George A. Moore, Jacob Claus, Oscar Faust, Anderson Banks, William Magill, T. H. Buckthorpe, John Catherwood, H. A. Withee, J. M. Rapp, T. R. Clements, J. T. Heaton, W. J. Olroyd, G. W. Cooper, William McCarthy and William Mathews.

On motion of 'Squire Albert Arenz, seconded by G. A. Moore and others, the following resolution was passed by a unanimous and hearty vote:

"Be it resolved, That we, the Republicans of the Third ward, unqualifiedly commend the progressive business like administration of city affairs under Mayor John R. Davis. He has given his best efforts to the business of the city and the good condition of all departments of the city government, making his re-nomination and reelection the wisest thing to forward the interests of Jacksonville.

"We therefore instruct the delegates to the city convention to vote for the re-nomination of John R. Davis for mayor."

With three hearty cheers for Mayor John R. Davis and the whole ticket the meeting stood adjourned.

FOURTH WARD.

The Fourth ward primary was held at Conservatory hall with a large attendance. The meeting was called to order by the central committeeman, E. E. Crabtree, of the second district, George W. Davis of the first district not being present. Mr. Crabtree read the call and asked for nominations for chairman.

James H. Damskin nominated H. M. Ticknor, and there being no opposition Mr. Ticknor was unanimously chosen.

For secretary W. L. Fay nominated A. T. Capps and Judge Layman nominated E. E. Crabtree as assistant, and both were chosen unanimously.

Andrew Russell moved the convention elect delegates to the city convention. Alex Armstrong moved that the chair appoint four tellers, and Edgar Davidson moved as an amendment that each of the four candidates for aldermen name a teller, and the amendment prevailed, and those named were: Fred Tendick, by W. J. Moore; Howard Phelps, by Harry Richards; James H. Damskin, by Alex Armstrong, and William Dalton, by Frank Haingrove.

Dr. Goodrick said that inasmuch as there was but one slate for delegates he would move that the secretary be instructed to cast the ballot of the convention for the Davis slate and its alternates. Carried.

The following were named by the convention:

Delegates—John J. Reeve, T. W. Beadle, William L. Fay, L. F. Black, J. R. Robertson, J. F. Brennan, C. S. Sanders, W. S. Talbot, E. E. Crabtree, S. Arbuckle, Samuel Harris, E. Nominations for the office of alderman were then called for. James H. Damskin named H. T. Richards; W. McDonald named F. L. Haingrove; Edgar Davidson named W. J. Moore, and Andrew Russell named Alex Armstrong.

J. J. Reeve moved that plurality elect. Carried. The result was: Richards, 217; Haingrove, 233; Armstrong, 52; Moore, 80; L. O. Vaught, 1.

In all 608 votes were cast. Judge Layman moved that the members of the central committee from the Fourth ward be permitted to fill vacancies on the ticket should any occur. Carried.

CENTENARY REVIVAL.

The services continue with unabated interest at the Centenary church, although the Monday night attendance was not so large. Rev. Nathan English preached an excellent sermon from the text: "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian." It was an earnest plea for decision, and showed the peril of delay.

Rev. Robert Stephens exhorted and led the after meeting. The enthusiasm evinced was most wholesome and the testimony meeting was unusually spirited.

Rev. Mr. Rigg's sermon Sunday morning was from the text: "Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world." With earnestness and power he set forth the peril of worldly currents which sweep all who give themselves to them into the whirlpool of death.

Meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon and at 7:30 to night. Rev. G. W. Tlagge, who for a short time was pastor of the church and is now presiding elder of the Quincy district, will preach Wednesday night.

WOMAN'S AID SOCIETY.

The Woman's Aid society of the Westminster church gave a sewing Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Rayhill. A very pleasant time was spent socially, the hostess serving dainty refreshments.

Mrs. G. S. Russell will entertain the society at a sewing Monday afternoon, March 27, to which all the ladies are invited.

The Good Effect of Good Clothes.

The story is told of a certain society lady that whenever she felt depressed or gloomy, she would array herself in her most expensive finery, and presto! gloom took wing and the smiling of good cheer entered in its place. This woman knew that the members of her sex are always in a happy frame of mind when they are exceedingly well groomed, and reasoning backward, she drew up this law: "If you have the Blues, dress up." The thought may seem far-fetched to some at first glance, but look at it from another point of view and it will not appear so. Haven't you, dear reader, bought a garment that seemed to fit your desires as well as your figure, only to discover in a few days that your judgment had misled you? That the garment had lost all its glamor and didn't fit so well as you thought? And what was the effect on you? Surely a depression of spirits, a loss of cheer—a case of the blues. That is the natural effect—if one is human. On the other hand, you may have bought a garment of beauty that proved to be a joy even unto the day when it was replaced by a newer style. The effect of such a garment was to gladden your heart with a happiness that came fresh over a day. It is reasonable to suppose that the maker of a garment that so fully met your desires is THE ONE to do so again, and so you look for a certain label or brand or mark that identifies the product. It is by this process that the WORTH SKIRT became a name to conjure with. The WORTH SKIRT has always reflected an admirable blending of fit and beauty—an irrefragable mastery of style. Its lines are so firm and sure as to spell dignity and it fits the figure so faultlessly as to become a gracious harmony of all beholders. The satisfaction of a gracefully rounded figure and the distinguished bearing produced by a WORTH SKIRT is revealed by the wearer in the sparkle of the eye and the buoyancy of the step—so easily are we influenced. The COMFORT derived by the wearer of a WORTH SKIRT makes it doubly delightful and the REASONABLE PRICE deserves more than perfunctory notice.

MARRY OR BUST LEAGUE.

County Life Men Swear to Find Wives Within a Year or Pay $100.

Recognizing that true happiness is to be found only in the marriage relation, twelve young men in Louisville, Ky., recently formed the League of Marry or Bust, each one pledging himself to take a wife within the year or to suffer expulsion from the league and to pay a fine of $100, says the Louisville Courier Journal. Charles J. Hesse was chosen president of the league. Joe D. Bradburn secretary and Stephen Cassidy treasurer. Other members will be accepted in the league, the only object of which is to prevent race suicide and encourage matrimony in young men.

While others were making the accustomed New Year's resolutions swearing to remain on the water wagon for a year, not to smoke or use tobacco in any form, etc.—Mr. Hesse and his friends decided that if a man chose the right kind of a wife all inducements to commit sin and to fall into the errors of ordinary men would be lost, and by agreeing each man to find a wife within the year 1905 they believe they have prepared themselves to lead lives that will be examples for their fellow citizens to profit by.

The most stringent constitution and bylaws were adopted by the League of Marry or Bust. Every man who fails to marry within the year will be fined $100, dishonorably expelled from the league and will be ostracized by all the members who have kept their vows. He is to be regarded as a man without honor and without intelligence enough to do that which is best for him after taking oath to do it. No excuse will be accepted, not even if the bachelor at the end of the year presents an affidavit setting forth that he has been unable to find a woman who would have him for a husband. That fact in itself, it is maintained by the league, will be sufficient reason for his being shunned, and the ban of the society will fall on him. The fines, if there are any, are to be used for fitting out the homes of those who marry within the year.

A Vanishing Industry.
There is another vanishing industry, says the New York Tribune. The Birmingham Jew's harp industry is stated to be in a bad way, owing to the collapse of the demand among savage peoples. The advance of civilization has been so thorough that nowadays in central Africa nothing short of Wagner will satisfy the native souls.

HAIR!

I allow my picture published for the benefit of any one who may be annoyed with dandruff. My hair came out dreadfully. My head itched continually. I was advised by my doctor to try GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. I did, and since have stopped the itching, cured the dandruff, and as to my hair, it shows for itself. I KILA HAIR TONIC. Mrs. N. Allen, 125 West Ohio Street, Chicago.

I make this sworn statement for the benefit of other people who are being deceived that I have been bald for 14 years and on the 14th of July one year ago I commenced the use of GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. The picture without hair is a correct one of myself as I have been, and the one with the hair on it is a correct one of myself as I am now since I used GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. My hair first came out after I had worn a scalin cap, which I think was the cause. In three years after I was baldly bald. I may say in many days after using GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC I noticed a new growth of hair.

TRIBUTES TO JAY COOKE

Recollections of Friends Who Knew the Financier.

ALWAYS GENEROUS TO THE NEEDY

For Years He Maintained a Special Fund For Their Relief—Stories About His Integrity—How He Regained His Fortune—Aiding the Government at Lincoln's Death.

Scattered all through the Third street district of Philadelphia are men who in a greater or less degree were in business relationship with the late Jay Cooke in the most notable years of the famous financier's life, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Many of them were his clerks in the great banking house that stood for so much in the course of the struggle for national unity from 1861 to 1865. Stephen W. White, now secretary of the Northern Central Railway company, was private secretary to Mr. Cooke. He was at Mr. Cooke's right hand during the panic period of 1873, when Mr. Cooke's immense fortune, won in serving his country's interests, was engulfed in a day.

"Mr. Cooke's greatest sorrow," said Mr. White, "was for the poor people who would suffer. He was always generous to the needy. For years he maintained a special fund for their relief, formed by the setting aside of a full title of the profits of the banking house. The clerks dubbed it the 'Old Patriarch Jacob Fund,' and the initials 'O. P. J. fund' were used to designate it in the accounts."

"Mr. Cooke made sunshine for all around him. His clerks all loved him, as the younger men of a tribe in the ancient days might have loved his patriarch and head. When he was in the office their cheerfulness was always greater than at other times. In the days of great financial stress, when he alone remained calm and courageous, they were disconsolate if he was absent."

George C. Thomas, the retired banker, once a partner of Mr. Cooke's and intimately acquainted with every detail of the great financier's resourcefulness in negotiating government loans during the civil war, says that the United States owes a debt of gratitude to Jay Cooke which it is impossible to overestimate.

"I consider it a great privilege," said Mr. Thomas, "to give this testimony. I was a clerk in Mr. Cooke's bank through the whole period of his agency in placing government loans, which was in itself a great experience. He succeeded in this largely by taking the people into his confidence. He made a popular subscription to the national loans, having brought before the people part of the old 6 per cent loan, which became due in 1881; the first 5-20s, a 6 per cent loan, redeemable in five years and payable in twenty years; the 10-40s, of similar nature, bearing interest at 5 per cent, and three issues of 7.3 per cent three year treasury notes.

"In one day at the height of these subscriptions $54,000,000 worth of these notes was taken by the public. Even in these days of wonderful negotiations such a business would be remarkable. Mr. Cooke had the entire confidence of all the secretaries of the treasury and was frequently called to Washington to consult as to ways and means for the negotiation of these loans. His commission, all things considered, was a very small one, and this he divided most liberally with every broker, and bank that acted as subscription agents under him.

"One of the most successful of his negotiations, one that aided the government's credit more than anything else, was his suggestion for the conversion of outstanding quartermasters' vouchers into 7.3 per cent treasury notes. Arrangements were made in this way for more than $50,000,000 of these vouchers, and the money market was thereby relieved from pressure and the government was enabled to fill all of its contracts at a much lower rate than before. The only obligation assumed by those who held vouchers was an agreement not to sell the treasury notes for three months, as otherwise they would have interfered with the regular subscription offerings. Before the three months was up the whole amount was placed and the subscription books closed.

"During the whole of this period of anxiety regarding the government loans I never saw Mr. Cooke lose his faith in himself or, more than that, in the ultimate triumph of the government."

In connection with the floating of these loans Mr. Thomas recounts a conversation which he heard between Mr. Cooke and Israel H. Johnson which led to the members of the Society of Friends becoming large subscribers. Mr. Johnson, who acted as trustee for a great many estates, objected as a friend to subscribing money for war purposes.

"But," said Mr. Cooke, "you cannot object to subscribing money for curing the wounded in hospitals, and all the Friends may subscribe shall be used for that sole purpose," Mr. Johnson at once subscribed.

Once when asked how he regained his fortune after becoming at fifty-two years of age practically penniless Mr. Cooke said:

"That is simple enough. By never changing the temperament I derived from my father and mother. From my earliest experience in life I have always been of a hopeful temperament, never living in a cloud. I have always had the reasonable philosophy to believe that men and times were better than harsh criticism would suppose. I knew that this American world of ours was full of wealth and that it was only necessary to go to work and find it. That is the secret of my success in life. Always look on the sunny side."

No less noteworthy than his hopefulness was his innate integrity. When $20,000,000 was to be raised in Europe for the Northern Pacific railroad enterprise a meeting to arrange the preliminaries of the affair was held at Mr. Cooke's house in Ogontz, at which one of the chief figures was Baron Gerolt, the German minister to the United States. Accompanying him were some of the most important bankers of Germany. Here the Northern Pacific scheme was talked over, and upon that evening Mr. Cooke received from them an exchange on Amsterdam for $500,000 in gold as a mere guarantee for an agreement that the bankers present would contribute $50,000,000 to build the Northern Pacific. The negotiations went on, and in the meantime the house of Jay Cooke & Co. held this $500,000 of gold in its vaults.

Two days before the outbreak of the Franco-Prussian war Mr. Cooke received a cablegram notifying him that the $500,000,000 would within forty-eight hours be on deposit in a well known banking house in London. Thus the inception of the Northern Pacific railroad on the broad basis planned by Mr. Cooke and his friends appeared to be assured, but during these intervening days war was declared between France and Prussia, and the guarantee of $50,000,000 fell through.

Mr. Cooke was asked many years later what he did with the $500,000 in gold.

"Why," was the reply, "we paid it back."

One morning in the fateful April of 1865 as the great financier was going to his office in a street car he heard that President Lincoln had been shot. His firm held a vast amount of government paper. He entered a telegraph office and wired his agents in every city in the north to advance the price of government bonds half a cent. Then he waited until noon and again wired to raise the price of bonds another half cent. He again raised the price in the afternoon, and the next day he kept them on the upward course.

On the second day he wired the treasury department at Washington, asking if the government would support him. "Yes. Go ahead," was the reply. Everybody was nonplused. Speculators who had gone short on the market could not see why the tragedy in Washington did not break the market. It was Jay Cooke's pluck and promptitude in action which prevented a financial panic.

PRESIDENT'S BEAR HUNT.

Plans For Mr. Roosevelt's Sport In East Texas.

Colonel Cecil Lyon of Sherman, Republican national committeeman for Texas, as at Austin, Tex., recently and had a conference with Governor Lanham in regard to the coming visit to Austin of President Roosevelt, says a dispatch from Austin. Colonel Lyon said he has been advised by Secretary Loeb that the president would arrive at Austin March 30 on his ride to San Antonio to attend the rough riders' reunion and upon reaching Houston would make a detour and go to the Big Thicket, in east Texas, for a five days' hunt after bear. Colonel Lyon has made all arrangements for this hunt.

"I have been in correspondence with the natives of the Big Thicket region," Colonel Lyon said, "and they have been stirring around to find the lairs of the black bears which inhabit the wilderness. I am advised that they already have a number of bears stalked out for the president. I do not mean by this that there will be any time bears palmed off on the president. That would not be permitted. There are plenty of wild bears in the Big Thicket, and the president will be given an opportunity to have some genuine sport."

"Because I have two pet bears at home some people seem to think that I intend to send them down to the hunting grounds for the president. I am willing to show my two pet bears when the hunt is over," said the president when I saw him the other day in Washington that I had named one of my bears Theodore Roosevelt, and it pleased him. But I am afraid some of his pleasure was lost when I told him that the other bear was named Carrie Nation.

"The only persons who will accompany the president on his trip are Secretary Loeb, Sloan Simpson of Dallas, the president's physician and myself."

A Giant Among Japanese.
Marquis Oyama is a giant among the Japanese. Six feet tall and weighing nearly 300 pounds, he is the national patron of wrestling and of swordsmanship, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Notwithstanding the recent honors won by the foreign trained generals—Kuroki, Oku, Nodzu and Nogai—this representative of the samurai class is the idol of the army, which regards him as the embodiment of the spirit of old Japan. Marquis Oyama is the youngest of the empire builders of Japan, among whom Marquis Yamagata and Marquis Ito are best known. He is sixty-two years of age.

Castor Oil For Mummies.
M. Berthelot, secretary of the Louvre museum in Paris, believes that he has discovered the secret of the agent used in embalming in ancient Egypt, says the London Telegraph. After a laborious examination of the sarcophagi of the fifth and sixth dynasties, which date back as far as 3500 B. C., M. Berthelot has come to the decision that the oil employed was simply castor oil, such as is still used in Egypt, but retained during the long period its preservative qualities.

THE MANY LIVED GOD

[Copyright, 1904, by K. M. Whitehead.]

Two paths wound their tortuous ways about the hill and came out finally on a small rocky shelf. The place commanded an excellent view of the level valley and the river twisting and turning a shimmering course many feet below. Far across the valley on the other side of the river the pine covered slopes made a cool, green vista in the July sunshin.

The man tolled slowly up one of these paths, pausing occasionally to mop his perspiring brow and to curse dejectedly the blackberry vines which now and again clutched his trousers. The girl came up the other path, holding a stuffy parasol in so spiritless a fashion that the sun streamed full upon her brown head.

The man reached the rocky shelf first and seated himself on the very edge, with his legs dangling over the brink. A few moments later the girl arrived on the scene, surveyed the man's broad back a moment and then said, half in annoyance, half in embarrassment, "Oh!"

The man turned about, beheld the intruder and with a cough—the masculine haven of refuge at such a time—resumed his study of the green thins in the valley below. The girl looked irresolutely at the man and with equal irresolution at the path she had just traveled. Then she sat down, with no irresolution whatever, beneath one of the scraggy firs. The tension of the silence became oppressive. It was the girl who broke it.

"I desire to be alone," she said, with imperious coolness.

The man turned slowly.

"You seem to voice my own ideas," he said.

"Why don't you leave, then?" she asked.

He smiled with calm insolence.

"Because," said he, "I wish to be here. Besides, this is my puddle. I found it first."

The girl's eyes narrowed and she pursed her lips.

"This particular nook is of my discovering, kindly remember," said she. "Possession is nine points of the law," he returned.

The girl's eyes looked across the valley to the ragged line of hills, over which fleecy bits of white clouds drifted lazily. Her parasol was tapping nervously an exposed root of the fir.

"Do you mind telling me why you came up here this afternoon?" she asked.

"For the same reason a murderer is drawn to the scene of his crime, by some horrible fascination, I suppose," he explained.

The girl smiled grimly.

"You admit it was a crime, then?"

"Mea culpa, mea culpa," he said; "mea most heinous culpa!"

She frowned. "It's scarcely humorous," she chided.

"It is tragic," he declared. He turned to her suddenly and his face was grave. "Why did you come?" he asked.

"I wanted to be—to be alone with my dead," she said, almost wistfully.

He straightened up. His tone was eager.

"You're sure it's dead?" he asked.

"Quite so," said she. "As a murderer you're decidedly effective."

"Are you sure," said he, "it isn't stunned or shamming? Are you certain it won't come to life again?"

The girl sighed.

"It is dead—stone dead," she said, with a touch of sadness in her voice.

"I thought," he remarked, "that love had as many lives as a cat—that one might cruelly maltreat it and yet it would survive."

"There is a limit to all things—even the forbearance of love," she said.

The man swung his legs over the brink, and his brow was drawn into a puzzled frown.

"I'm terribly afraid there's a spark of life yet," said he. "It would be frightful to bury the poor chap alive. It seems to me we should try resuscitation first."

"I'm afraid it's too late," she said coldly. "It is far easier to destroy than to resurrect."

"Quite so, quite so," said he uneasily. "Oh, I say," he burst out contritely, "you don't really mean it's all off. You don't mean you'll let that miserable tiff of yesterday morning end everything, do you?"

The girl arched.

"I came up here to be alone," she said. "It is evident I must seek solitude somewhere else."

He jumped to his feet.

"I'll go," he said. "You may have the cliff to yourself. But before I leave I want to ask a favor. When you bury the dead, you'll not forget it entirely, will you? You'll remember that for a day—for a day?"

He stopped and looked at her.

"Oh, well," he said contritely, "it was all my fault anyway. I have no right to ask favors. Goodby."

He moved down the winding path. The blackberry vines caught at his clothes, but he forgot to curse them. Halfway down the path he heard rapid footsteps behind him. He turned and beheld the girl hurrying after him. Her face was crimson, and her eyes refused to meet his.

"What's up?" he asked her cheerfully.

"Oh," she said, "I tried to bury him, and he wasn't—oh, can't you understand?"

They wended their way back to the little rocky cliff and sat down together. They were chattering happily.

"I did really think I had done it that time," he confessed.

"You are a dead old stupid," she averred as she smoothed his hair.

BARRY PRESTON.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches, and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloom after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had an acrid discharge and pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Experience has proved this.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is free and confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

Dear Sir—I have been troubled with my bladder and kidneys for the last 20 years, having doctored with many different physicians in that time, with no results. I was told to try a bottle of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure, which I did and which is the only medicine that ever gave me relief. I am 71 years old and am in the best of health today. I will heartily recommend Dr. Fenner's Remedy to any one suffering from their bladder or kidneys. Besides it is not a mean dose but pleasant to take.

JOHNSON ON TRUSTS.

Minnesota Governor's Warning to Captains of Industry.

SAYS PUBLIC MIND IS AROUSED.

"We Are Confronting," He Declares, "A Centralized Commercialism More Than Feared in Its Power." "Tendency of the Great," He Says, "to Crush the Small Will Soon Come."

The millions of Chicago assembled at dinner at the Commercial club in Chicago the other night heard some startling expressions from Governor Johnson on trusts.

After describing the awakening of the people of the west, as indicated in the election of Governor Folk and Deneen, Governor Johnson said:

"Today the captains of industry are arrayed in a solid phalanx for control of congress in order to defeat the will of the people. The people stand amazed as they look on at the conflict. The public mind is aroused. The process of disillusionment has been slow, but the time is past when the senate of the United States can permanently defeat the popular will. The people have learned that there has been too much partnership and not enough independence, too little patriotism and too much politics. Voters have heretofore supported blindly a policy of special privilege devised by Pennsylvania, whose congressional representatives are controlled by the Standard Oil company. It is now beginning to dawn on the people that this republic rests on men, not on money. Our political system and our commercial system are out of tune. The tendency of the great to crush the small will soon come."

"Watered stock is the mirage in the desert of our commercial life. It has become a common phase of legalized larceny. Government control is coming, and those who oppose it want to remember that the pendulum has been too long on one side. Forsaking old ideals, we are confronting a centralized commercialism more than feared in its power. "Fear of revolution blanches the cheek of the czar. In our country there is a smoke that might be fanned into flame. "Railroad discrimination, the rebate and the private car system have brought into existence one of the most powerful trusts on the globe—the great beef trust. Such systems have created the Standard Oil company, the coal combine, the United States Steel corporation. "It is not time that the law was invoked for the protection of the common citizen?"

J. O. Armour, P. A. Valentine and other members of the beef trust were present and heard the arraignment of the trusts.

WHIPPING POST FOR WOMEN

Connecticut Woman Suggests This Form to Punish Husband Niggers.

Mrs. Wilbur F. Rogers of Meriden, Conn., wife of the silver plate manufacturer, believes in equal suffering as well as equal suffrage, says a Meriden (Conn.) special dispatch to the New York World. She wants a whipping post for women and is talking earnestly in its favor in connection with a bill now before the Connecticut legislature providing a whipping post for wife beaters.

City Attorney L. C. Higman of Meriden is the author of the bill, and it has created considerable comment. But the advocacy of Mrs. Rogers that the punishment be extended to members of her sex has created even more discussion.

Mrs. Rogers is president of the Humane society and of the Political Equality club. As soon as she heard of City Attorney Higman's bill she came forward with the proposition for the post for women. Her companions in the Political Equality club are somewhat in doubt whether their belief in women's rights should make them supporters of the whipping post. Yet most of them agree that husband nagging is almost as heinous as wife beating.

Roosevelt's Influence in Russia.

A Paris letter to the New York Independent contains the following: "If I have been well informed by my St. Petersburg correspondents, Father Gapon has taken as his guide in more ways than one the bold and healthy teachings of President Roosevelt, 'the strenuous life' being one of the things he is continually preaching to the apathetic Russian peasant and workman who suffer themselves to be 'driven about like sheep by the whips of the brutal Cossacks,' as he wrote on one occasion in a private letter to an old friend of mine. Roosevelt's two books, 'The Strenuous Life' and 'American Ideals,' which have appeared here in French during the last year or so, have found their way into Russia, with warm welcome, I am told."

A Canary That Talks.

Miss Mary Somers and her aunt, Miss Mary Wilkinson, of Baltimore, says the New York World, have a canary that talks. "Such a pretty bird! Such a beauty!" says the little fellow in musical tones which are perfectly distinct. Then he combines the words, "Pretty, beauty, pretty, beauty." Sometimes he stops at "such a," when he coquetishly places his head on one side as though overcome at his timidity in singing his own praises. "Beauty" is a very beautiful bird. He was purchased by Miss Somers July 4 with another canary and taken home. The sentence which he has learned to repeat was the usual salutation of Miss Wilkinson and Miss Somers when they approached the canary.

TO KEEP AN UMBRELLA.

An umbrella should not be opened out to dry, as the stretchers are apt to warp in the bent form, giving an unsightly appearance when the umbrella is closed. The silk should be left to drain with the handle downward and gently wiped with an old silk handkerchief.

Cure For Frostbite.

Bathe the parts affected in alum water, pretty strong, for five to ten minutes. This treatment may be used and depended on for relief as long as the part affected is not "open." After bathing in alum water, apply linseed oil.

BRYAN PREACHED IN CHICAGO SUNDAY

Subject Was "Prince of Peace"—Address Delivered in Auditorium of Central Y. M. C. A.

Chicago, March 20.—William Jennings Bryan came to Chicago yesterday, but not in the interests of Democracy. His only public utterance avoided politics save in a most remote allusion to it when he said he did not bring peace to the heart of man, but allusion was in the course of an address delivered in the auditorium of the Central Young Men's Christian association, 14 La Salle street.

Mr. Bryan's subject was the "Prince of Peace." It was a sermon in reality and for thirty minutes he spoke on purely religious matters. "I take a deeper interest," he said, "in speaking on a religious subject than I do in speaking even on politics. There is no peace in social, political or commercial wealth. We cannot purchase peace of the heart by winning honors of our fellow men."

COMPANY I ELECTION.

The election in Company I to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of First Lieut. B. A. Van Winkle was held in Armory hall Monday evening. On the first ballot John H. McDonnell received thirty-five votes and Earl Vickery six, one member not voting.

Lieutenant McDonnell has already made a good record in the company, of which he became a member in 1885. In 1895 he was elected first lieutenant and served in that capacity for six years, including the period of the Spanish-American war. He is a man thoroughly schooled in military tactics and has been a very valuable member of the company. His preference has certainly been well deserved.

CONCERT

The concert given by the Illinois College of Music orchestra under the direction of Miss Berenice Long Monday evening at the chapel of the Woman's college, was a distinct success. The musicianship shown by the members of the orchestra reflected great credit upon the work of the director and the program was thoroughly enjoyed by the large and appreciative audience present.

The opening number, Overture by C. Lavallee, was played with fine expression and met with hearty favor. The solo numbers by Miss Work and Miss Morgan were also given with effectiveness and showed excellent skill. The recitation by Miss Purviance and the vocal solo by Miss Young added to the pleasure of the evening and both young ladies were encored.

The concluding number on the program was given a splendid interpretation and the ensemble work of the orchestra showed that the members had worked faithfully and well, and that they had been earnest students of the king of instruments.

MATRIMONIAL

M'NAMARA-RACE.

Thomas McNamara, of this city, and Miss Rebecca Race, of Chapin, were married by Rev. R. E. Thrapp at his home on West College avenue Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The groom has been employed as day operator at the Burlington station for nearly a year and is regarded by the company as one of its most faithful employees. The bride is one of the most charming young ladies of Chapin, where she has a host of friends who will join in wishing her happiness.

Among the many handsome wedding presents which were received by Mr. and Mrs. McNamara was an elegant rocking chair given by the local employees of the Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. McNamara will be at home to their friends at 734 East State street for the present.

AT THE GRAND

"Winsome Winnie" Won Favor With Local Theatre Patrons—Paula Edwards an Actress With a Future.

"Winsome Winnie" pleased and delighted an audience of only fair proportions at the Grand Monday night, when the merits of the piece demanded a packed house. By many the play was pronounced the best Schubert offering seen here this season and certain it is that the production has points of excellence galore. "Winsome Winnie" has a superbly musical swing, splendid soloists, a well trained chorus and a bevy of beauties whose terpsichorean work is far above the average. Brilliant costuming and adequate stage pictures make this romantic comic opera production of real enjoyment.

Paula Edwards, in the part of "Winsome Winnie," has been cast in a most congenial role. Her part is one where wit and fancy have free rein and she is decidedly clever whether acting, dancing or singing. She is a versatile artist whose work is at all times pleasing. Her costumes and make-ups are good and her every appearance is greeted with applause and favor.

William Wolff, as "Pericles, chief of the Brazen Bandits," played his part in a fine manner and is a comedian of ability. He possesses a good voice which he uses to marked advantage.

Edward Paulton, as "Dr. Tailor, proprietor of Dr. Tailor's Tiny Tablets," made a hit every time he appeared and his work was excellent.

The company was a capable and hard working one and the production was in all ways creditable.

The music of this piece is decidedly catchy and the song "Winsome Winnie" will be whistled on every street corner in less than a week. This song as sung by Arthur Ernest, made one of the greatest hits ever witnessed at the Grand. The gallery took up the tune before the third encore and Mr. Ernest was compelled to return seven times and bow his acknowledgements three times before the audience was satisfied.

Miss Mabel Curtis, of Waverly, who formerly attended the Woman's college in this city, was a member of the chorus, having but recently been transferred from "The Royal Chef," another of the Schubert companies. "Winsome Winnie" She appeared to fine advantage and was graceful and easy in her stage manner.

WATER MAIN BROKE.

A peculiar state of affairs was discovered in the pavement of North Main street near the Wabash track Monday afternoon, when the bricks sank under one of Charles Dalrymple's horses, causing the animal to fall and injuring him slightly. An examination of the break disclosed the fact that a water pipe leading from the main to the Russell lumber yard had burst and the water had found an outlet without coming to the surface. The soil had been gradually washed away until a space of considerable dimensions had been hollowed out. A force of men was at once put to work repairing the break.

DEATH RECORD

BROWN.

Word was received in this city Monday evening of the death of Robert Brown at his home in Hastings, Neb. He had been ill from an attack of la grippe for some time and death resulted. He was reared in this county and spent the largest part of his life near this city, where he will be remembered by many. He was married to Miss Anna Barrows, also of this city, who survives. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. William Duer, of Pisgah, and one brother, Charles Brown, of Diverson. The deceased was a cousin of Mrs. C. M. Duer of this city and an uncle of W. T. Brown.

He was a lieutenant in the civil war and fought bravely during that campaign. He was a trustee of one of the banks in Hastings and was also associated with the Hastings college.

The funeral arrangements had not been made last evening, but it is supposed that the interment will take place in Hastings. Rev. James M. Duer, of Hillsboro, expects to attend the funeral.
